

SHERI BERGER

Speaker, Author, Coach

Sheri Berger is a business consultant with 20 years experience consulting business owners on how to get from “Here to There” and thrive in their work / life balance.

Life is a process. Business is equally complex and like life itself, offers many possibilities.

Founder of HERE TO THERE CONSULTING, Sheri Berger consistently delivers first class service as a speaker, leader, coach, consultant, trainer, author and mentor who takes thorough approach to harmonizing chaos and balancing the scales of life and business. As a graduate of Park University, majoring in computer-based information systems, she also worked as a system analyst for Sprint prior to starting her own business.

An expert in helping companies manifest their vision by creating uniquely designed systems, she is aptly know as the ‘Process and Procedure Architect.’ She knows what it takes to make all the parts of life perform in unison from small businesses to large corporations.

As an entrepreneur for over 20 years, she knows how to help business owners create balance in life, business, finances, personal development, health and spirituality.

When not growing businesses, she enjoys spending time with her family, friends, pets and traveling to Hawaii. She has owner her business, raised four amazing children and has been married for over 26 years to the love of her life. All in all, a great example and testament to what she teaches.

Sheri Berger is an AMAZING coach. She is very knowledgeable about her craft and the desire to help women flourish in their business. Sheri thinks outside the box and is able to show you many alternate routes on your journey. Sheri connects with her clients making them feel comfortable. I felt alive when I left our session with initiative ideas to pursue.
